Senator Lee carried Newton with a vote of 32,505 to 11,732 for Muldoon or by almost 3 to 1. The four Republican candidates seeking re-election to the House of Representatives found little difficulty in winning again. Representatives Christian Herter Jr., and George E. Rawson in the 4th Middlesex district received 12,486 and 10,602 votes respective-ly as against 7,106 votes for Leo Cannon, and 7,345 votes for Fran-cis "Chick" Morris, their Democratic opponents.

In the 5th Middlesex District, Representatives Howard Whit-more and Irene K. Thresher received 15,466 and 15,332 votes respectively to 8,086 votes for their Democratic opponent, Hochberg.

By the overwhelming vote of 23,344 to 8,508, Newton voters re-pealed the Preferential system of voting in municipal here. As a result, future municipal elections will be decided on the candidates receiving the highest number of votes in a contest. This is the same system which prevails in practically every other community in the Commonwealth.

On the question of liquor licenses, the city again voted "wet." For all liquor license the vote was Yes 29,205 to 10,934 No On the question of only beer and wine, the vote was Yes, 28,603 to 9,273 No. On the vote for package stores, the vote was 23,039 Yes and 6,411 No. This vote on Herbert T. Caution Needed in Use of

For greater care and caution in the operation of oil burners, the National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests the following safety precautions:

1. Throughly inspect and clean the heater before putting it into operation each season.

2. Be sure heater is set level.

3. Keep it clean and free of dirt at all times.

4. Never place the heater near curtains, table cloths or other hanging materials, or where they may be blown over the heater.

5. Never place the heater where t is apt to be knocked over. Many fires have resulted when heaters were placed in line of traffic in the house or were knocked over by children at play. 6. Never fill or carry a heater while it is lighted.

7. Don't operate the heater in tightly closed room. See that he door or window is opened and took in all the natural mar-vels. Old Faithful erupted twice slightly to assure a good oxygen supply; this is essential even in the coldest weather.

Health For All

Thanksgiving Day ushers in the holiday season. Once again w'll be laughing and reminiscing with old friends and relatives around the "groaning board," blissfully unaware of how much w are eating or drinking. Most of us will take the extra helping o. turkey with stuffing or the second piece of pumpkin pie in stride as part of the holiday fun.

Eating, of course, should be fun. But overeating is something else again: it never did anybody any good. Worrying unnecessarabout what you eat won't help either. Eaters in good health can usually offset too hearty a dinner by resuming smaller, but still regular, meals the day after. Still, the holiday season, when the temptations of rich food are traditionally with us, is a good time to take stock of our eating

Most of us tend to eat too much, especially fried or starchy foods, and to eat too fast. Too often the penalty is digestive troubles, or worse. Overeating usually results in overweight. and overweight, as your doctor will tell you, puts added strain on the heart, kidney, liver, and other vital organs. It may result in high blood pressure, or such serious illnesses as heart and circulatory diseases, diabetes, and a thritis. Doctors have reason to believe that excess weight, espe-letter to the persons over 30 can ac. Expert Diamond Setter 30 Yrs Experience May 8-tf-P tually shorten life.

For the great majority of us the best way to avoid overweight is through sensible eating habits. The most healthful diet provides the proper balance between proteins and carbohydrates, supand the needed number of calories. These needs vary with the individual, according to his size, build, and physical activity, but most of us eat more than we

The best meals are appetizing, nourishing, and varied. Holiday meals need not be an exception.

Most of us can benefit from main dishes like turkers. dishes like turkey, taken in mod-eration, and from the variety of vegetables and fruits usually served, including the traditional cranberry sauce. But we can also benefit by taking it easy in sampling rich dressings and gravies and heavy, calorie-loaded des-sorts like mince pie and plum pudding.

A closing word of caution to those who want to lose weight. There are no shortcuts. The best advice is to see your doctor. He can prescribe a balanced and appetizing diet for taking off excess pounds and also for improving your general health.

A little later on during his talk, Mr. Penney said: "We are going to have to sell a word. It is a word called Freedom."

We Americans have every right to be proud of our material achievements. Our farms and factories produce goods in quantities and of qualities unknown in most of the rest of the world. Our retail stores are loaded not only with the necessities, but with a wealth of wares which would seem like utter luxuries to other peoples. Our American standard of living is unrivalled.

All this is to the good. But, as Mr. Penney pointed out, we tend to lose sight of the main cause of it. And that cause is free-dom: freedom to work, freedom to own property, freedom to follow the dictates of our own conscience and ambition, freedom to take chances, freedom to be an individual in the fullest meaning of the term-above all, freedom from the tyranny of a totalitarian state. That freedom was our heritage. But we can keep it only if we guard it, nurture it, and dedicate ourselves to its perpetuation. Yes, that is the word we must sell-the word freedom.

Now, All Together! We have chosen the President who will Fortunately, that is not the American way. Harsh words spoken in the heat of the campaign already have been forgotten. Realstatesmen have never been "soreheads," and all of them are now working together to promote the interests of our country.

It's time for the rest of us-regardless of party-to pull together toward peace and prosperity as Americans all.

Things you'd like to know about your Railroad

Who's on the Railroad Safety Team?

RAILROAD SCIENTISTS at New York Central's two great laboratories test the strength and all-weather dependability of everything from rails to electric relays. This machine tests the ability of rubber for air-brake hose to survive far tougher treatment than it ever gets in actual use.

YOU'RE ON THE TEAM. All highway grade crossings are clearly marked. When you see one ahead, slow down and roll down your window. If you hear a train whistle or warning bell, see back. Help New York Central guard your safety.

MEN OUT ON THE LINE, in the yards, signal towers, shops, are safety-trained. And working with them are thousands of safety devices. Here, a signal maintainer checks an Automatic Train Stop that would apply the brakes at a warning signal, even if there were no engineer in the cab!

YOUR YOUNGSTERS, TOO, should learn never to play on railroad tracks. Tracks are the world's safest place for train travelers ... but NOT for playing children! So teach them to watch trains vell back from the right of way. Help keep SAFETY THE "CENTRAL IDEA"!

He said he would "strenuously object" to a drive-in theater in any section of Newton. The location of the proposed drive-in, he pointed out is surrounded by private homes, and it would be "an effrontery to the property-owners to have any change there that would destroy the values of their homes." No formal action will be taken by the city until the firm makes an official request for the land. In doing this, the New York company must first submit a petishall walk eventually," she has said. "I feel that we have so much to be thankful for in God. ship of the land, secondly rethird, ask for an entertainment

In expressing his opposition to the drive-in., Mr. Prior cited the "nuisance value" and the resulting 7-day traffic jam. He pointed out that the open-air movies cannot start until after dark in the summertime, which means that the shows do not end until near midnight. Then, he stated, there s much noise, especially blowing of horns.

He said these conditions "are not feasible" in a residential location, suggesting that open-air theaters are more suitably locat ed in less-congested, wooded Lexington and River streets are not wide enough to accomodate increased traffic resulting from the operation of the theater, Mr. Prior stated.

He said he would like to have the Aldermen consider making a playground at the movie site for children of that area.

Alderman Prior was first contacted by a representative of the company about two weeks, when he was shown a rough sketch of the proposed drive-in. "When I was being contemplated, I contacted various people in all sec-tions of the City of Newton as to their opinion," he explained. He said members of the clergy and Banner" by the chorus. various civic groups registered their disapproval.

He stated that owners of the abutting land had not been told what was intended for the property when the options were obtained. He did not think they and John P. Zottu of Troop 27: Northeastern Gas Transmission would be realized by the city from the project, the alderman pointed out. The original sale would not produce much because of the type of land, and the only taxable structures would be movie screen, projection room and concession stand.

"The revenue that the city would derive from this would in no way offset the other considerations which I say are detri-mental to the neighborhood."

Headed by Ronald B. MacDonald of 150 Mt. Vernon street, Newton, the men who built the front-door ramp also scraped the walls, repainted all the wood-work and put up storm windows. Wallpaper selected by Mrs. Masters will be put up later.

Mrs. Masters will live in Auburndale for at least a year, returning from her treatments in Georgia about December 1. With her will be her nurse, Audrey Beyers of Umtali, Southern Rhodesia, who has offered a year of service to the family.

Nurse Beyers arrived in Boston Friday and witnessed the preparations at the house before eaving for Warm Springs. She wants no praise for her care of the Masters.

But Mrs. Masters doesn't intend to let the year slip by wtihout accomplishing anything. Once a nurse, she now wants to study accounting, shorthand and typing so she can do clerical work in Nurse Beyers' hospital.

Despite the tragedy which struck her family-a blow that would have crushed many a woman's spirit-Mrs. Masters firmly believes she will again walk.

Many corporations are waiting for Di rectors' meetings to determine their gifts and solicitation of employees has only recently started so the total results may not be known for another week or two. Raytheon Manufacturing Company is nearing the completion of its Campaign and expects shortly to make an official report to Newton and Waltham headquarters. As the goal accepted by Raytheon is more than one half of the Newton Manu facturing Division goal, the total subscription from this com pany and its employees is important to the Newton Red Feather Campaign.

"We are off to a good start," states Franklin D. Jerome, Newton Campaign Chairman, "and number of increased gifts that we have received are en-couraging. We want to point out again that costs are up and if our Hobart road, Newton Centre same level as a year ago we need larger gifts. It should also be remembered that USO, USO Camp Shows, and the National Defense fund, is a part of our Campaign and we hope that those who have not already subscribed will consider this in making their gifts."

At the first report luncheon of the Campaign held last Monday at United Community Services headquarters, "Tony" Parker, General Chairman, stated, Being volunteer head of this Red Feather drive is one of the greatest things in my life. To vatch this army of 35,000 wonderful citizens of our community come to life and go to work is a very thrilling thing. I've been through six Red Feather Cam paigns but have never seen such a spirit and aggresive determination to win as there is this year. The people of Greater Boston are determined to put this Red Feather Campaign over the top."

He must, (and this should go back to first place in my catalog) be able to present from the pulpit the basic concepts of spiritual and religious principles, in a clear, forceful, persuasive and dynamic manner, backed by a conviction tailored to personal experience. I could dwell overtime on this point, a fetish with me, in that I feel most strongly that a man worthy of the cloth in this complex and complicated era, must have pleasing pulpit personality, persuasive oratorical ability and a profound under-standing of the humanities. Nothing less will win for the minister and for the Church enthusiastic support needed now and in the future if we are to keep the Church and its influence central in our American life.

The usual professional shortcoming in business matters cannot prevail with our ideal minister. 7. Finally he must minister to the sick, counsel the distressed and all the other pastoral needs attendant in life from the cradle to the grave. In this category, our minister must know how to train assistants, members of committees, conduct board meetings, and importantly, take active part in community activities with a lending hand to the other church-

Self-evident Facts

The embittered, high-powered campaigning that marked the closing weeks of the Presidential race largely drove from the headlines many a news story of long-pull significance, even as it diverted public attention from developments of top importance to the entire world. High on this list have been the course of the cold war and the status of the hot war in Korea.

Certain facts seem to be self-evident. First, the idea, which was hopefully held some time ago in various quarters, that the Soviet Union wished to come to some sort of reasonable terms with the United States, no longer has credence. It is clear that the only terms in which the Politburo is interested are those which would work one hundred per cent to Russia's advantage. In his last major speech before the U.N. General As-Vyshinsky followed the standard Soviet line for well over an hour, accusing this country of practically every crime in the calendar, including the germ warfare charge, and the assertion that the Korean war was being deliberately prolonged so as to profit American billionaires who lust for blood money.

Second, current Soviet strategy has as its basic aim the splitting of the Western powers, to be followed ultimately by the isolation of the U.S. This certainly isn't a new technique, but the work is being intensified. Soviet officials are being very polite these days to certain of the Western nations, particularly those in which there are substantial anti-American blocs, and in which the governments are something less than stalwart in their allegiances. The officials are trying hard to sell the idea that Russia has no designs on these nations, and wants to be friends.

Third, Russia is going all out to strengthen and harden her agents and sympathizers in the Western countries, with special emphasis on the U.S. The American Communist party has in large part gone under-ground. It is reported that membership requirements have been greatly stiffened; no weak sisters are wanted. It is also reported that Russia's system of schooling her foreign agents is really in high gear. The curriculum is an extensive one, including everything from propaganda techniques to how to sabotage industrial plants, power and rail systems, and other key installations.

Fourth, the problem of what to do about Communists in our government is more crucial than ever. The testimony of General Walter Bedell Smith, head of our top intelligence agency, in this regard was most revealing. General Smith, an extremely able officer who was Eisenhower's Chief of Staff during World War II and afterwards Ambassador to Russia, said that Communists had wormed their way into important places in his agency and elsewhere. Also revealing is the charge of the Senate Internal subcommittee that American Communists have gained key positions in the United Nations Secretariat

Last, but certainly no least, it is clear that we are as far from a Korean truce as ever, that no one in a responsible position has any definite plan for ending the bloody struggle, and that the Kremlin will do everything possible to keep it going and to force us to spend material and manpower there in an endless stream.

The campaign is over, the candidates have said their says, and the people have supplied the decision. But the great prob-lems confronting the American government and the chosen representatives of the American people remain.

ceived many letters from people living on pensions and other fixed incomes complaining of the hardships imposed by present price levels, and asking assurance that the price of goods will not be permitted to rise still more. This, he inferred, is one of the reasons why continued government price control is necessary.

All of us can sympathize with the plight of these people. But how political price con-trol, rigorously applied as it might be, could correct matters is something else again.

No manufacturer can produce an article unless the price he sells it for is sufficient to pay all his costs and to return at least a modicum of profit. The same thing is true of the retailer who sells the article to you. And it would be impossible to make a noticeable dent in the prices we pay for most things even if business made no profit at all. To take one significant example, average retail profits of late have been running at an extremely low level-less than one cent to two or three cents out of each dollar of sales. depending on the kind of goods handled. There's no margin there to do anything about prices.

Competition forces prices to the lowest possible level. But the producer and the distributor can't block the forces of inflation, which, ironically, were largely created by political groups which are beating the drums for perpetual price control.

"Grants-in-Aid" Futile

The money problems of State and local governments can't be solved by dribbles of Federal "grants-in-aid."

It would help these governments fare more if the Federal Treasury would let to its strangle-hold on the sources of revenue, and let them raise their own funds for projects approved by the taxpayers. That would give back to State and local governments the rights and powers guaranteed by the Consti-

Minor Revolt in Senate Against Furbush . . .

A good deal of bitterness still is smouldering in Republican circles over the manner in which Governor Dever was able to get measures through the outgoing State Senate, even though it was supposedly dominated by the G.O.P.

One Republican Senator, Harry P. Mc-Allister of Worcester, who was receptive to the Governor's wishes on numerous occasions, was defeated for renomination in the September primary.

Senator Edward W. Staves of South-bridge, who headed the Senate ways and means committee which passed upon all State expenditures and who also voted with the Democratic minority on many questions, did not seek reelection.

To what extent Senate President Richard I. Furbush could be held responsible for his inability to hold party lines more tightly during the past two years debatable.

Some prominent Republicans are outspoken in their criticism of Furbush and the calibre of leadership he displayed while presiding over the sessions of the upper legislative chamber.

They assert that the party discipline unler him was extremely weak and compared infavorably with that which Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons was able to achieve despite the fact that Gibbons headed a minority membership in the House of Representatives.

That is why a small group of Republican Senators, including Leslie B. Cutler of Needham, are staging a minor revolt against President Furbush and are attempting to repudiate him and elect Senator George J. Evans of Wakefield as their presiding officer or the next two years.

Furbush had enough pledges even before election day to assure his election, and there is no real likelihood of the revolt succeeding unless Governor-elect Christian A. Herter steps into the picture and places his influence on the line behind Evans.

That probably will not happen since Herter is anxious to achieve a high degree of harmony in the Legislature and presumably will let the Senators fight out their own battle, accept the outcome and then work with the leaders elected.

Whether Furbush should be held accountable for the actions of those Senators who swung over to the Democratic side when Governor Dever needed their votes for pet measures is a question. The Governor's lieutenants had patronage and other inducements to offer in attempting to secure the passage of bills, while the only weapon Furbush could employ was the threat of party discipline against G.O.P. Senators who declined to follow his leadership.

The big reason for the G.O.P. indignation, of course, is that in the recent battles Governor Dever and the Democratic campaigners were able to point out that every bill enacted had to go through the Republican State Senate and that the Republicans had to accept a share of the responsibility for every measure adopted.

Senator Cutler's ire also was aroused because Furbush was the emissary who distributed financial help from the Republican State Committee to the G.O.P. candidates for the Senate.

She feels that it wasn't quite political cricket for Furbush to line up a pledge for himself at the same time that he arranged a campaign donation for a prospective Republican Senator, and her point would seem to be reasonably well taken.

It is rather doubtful, however, that any politician in the same position as Furbush, whether Republican or Democratic, would not have taken advantage of the opportunity to put in a word for himself under such circumstances.

The Republican majority in the State Senate is not likely to be any happy, harmonious political family during the early stages of the next legislative year, and some of the G.O.P. caucuses held behind closed doors may be rather acrimonious gatherings.

But it may eventually clear the air, and Mr. Herter probably will not have to worry too much about the working cooperation of the Senate where his party now holds a 25 to 15 majority.

Activities of the Newtons

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Drama Department of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands presented two one-act plays on the club's Home Talent Day, Nov. 19, at the Newton High-lands Congregational Church.

"The Purple Doorknob," by Walter Pritchard Eaton, had the following cast: Mrs. Kenneth R. Lynde, Mrs. Charles J. Brown, Mrs. Dana Sylvester. Music Interlude by Miss Gloria Mack.

"Lady Rosa," by Maud Merritt, had the following players: Mrs. Horace U. Ransom, Mrs. Nor-man B. Krim, Mrs. Philip Wilbert, Jr., Mrs. A. Perry Holt, Mrs. Frank B. Greene.

The plays were directed and coached by Mrs. James H. Zimmer, and those assisting were: Mrs. Ralph D. Thompson, Mrs. Thomas Goodrum, Mrs. Roger S. Hamilton, Mrs. Henry W. S. Hamilton, Mrs. Henry W. Nelson, Mrs. Charles Roberts, Miss Sara Thompson and Mrs. Albert S. Geneske.

is better tomorrow. So say the connoisseurs. Give the onions a chance to swap flavors with the meat and the carrots and perhaps that clove of garlic, so each flavor is a varying bouquet. Recent research has shown that this occurs also in the case of hard candy if it is kept for a considerable time tightly sealed up with different kinds mixed together. But unlike soup, it rather spoils each flavor to have a medley of other flavors competing and hiding the true keen individual flavor of the piece. That is why really fresh made ribbon candy tastes better. Such as we make and will sell starting November 21st, weather permitting.

"... and Mommie called the lady ... and the lady said if I was a good girl I could have one of her kittens . . . and I'm going to name her Fluffy . . . and . . ."

Just another telephone call - one of the thousands over our lines that day. But how important to that little girl's happiness! Actually, every telephone call is important, especially to the person who's calling - whether it's a call for a kitten or a call for help.

THE COST IS SMALL

That's right. And a call for help costs no more than a call to the grocer's. The price is still pennies - despite the fact there are twice as many telephones you can call today as compared to ten years ago, and your service is faster, better, more dependable. Yes, your telephone is one of the outstanding conveniences of our modern way of life.

Some people who have applied for telephone service are still without it because we lack necessary equipment. To correct this situation is one of our major projects.

Some who do have service, however, are inclined to forget or overlook the telephone's real worth. It is only to such asers that reference is made here to the ever-increasing value of telephone service.

States City Manager Not Needed Now

Prof. Lambie Feels That Present System Now Working Good Here

The fact that the operation of Newton's present city givernment is one of the most success ful in the state was emphasized by Professor Morris B. As regards the present gov-ernment in Newton, Professor Lambie felt that it would be unnecessary to adopt a city manager charter at the present time, where the existing arrangement works as well as it does, although he did point out that a city such as Newton presents the optimum conditions under which a city manager system can work. The possibility of keeping our present charter and hiring a city manager to work under the mayor as has been done in Louisville, Kentucky, was mentioned.

Professor Lambie, in discussing methods of voting, noted that with the recent abolition of the preferential voting system in Newton, he knew of no other city in the country which has such a system now in operation. He felt that the newly adopted plurality system is about the most equitable one possible for ilies.

Transition Period Coming

A bulletin issued by a national association of retailers points out that, barring a world war, forecasts indicate the defense build-up will be reached in late 1953 cr early 1954. Beginning then, less of our productive capacity will be needed for the military services and more will gradually become available for normal civilian purposes.

This change will require a reorganization of entire industries and a national redistribution of manpower requirements. The bulletin observes, "Retailing's role in exchanging an economy currently established on defense spending to one based on consumer demand will be an enormous one. As a major industry responsible for the distribution of our national production to the ultimate purchaser, it must be prepared to do its part in making certain that the forthcoming economic change is made with the least possible unsettling effect upon every phase of our business and social existence.

American retailers know that their own welfare depends on consumer welfare. They have dealt with the onerous problems presented by world wars, great depressions, political controls and red-tape, and economic and social changes of every conceivable kind. They have been leaders in seeking solutions which would serve the nation and its people Retailing's task in helping to ease the transition from a defense economy to a peace economy will be a big one. Those fam-iliar with its past achievements in times of stress know that it can be trusted to give a good account of itself.

And one of these ways to do so, to be prepared for any predicted transition, is to advertise now and not frantically when the contemplated transition comes. The retailer who will be most likely to prosper and to hurdle such a transition will be the one who consistently and constantly advertises and establishes in the consumer's mind, their name and their products. This is not mere speech. It is a fact which has been proved time and time again in the past. The alert merchant already recognizes this fact. Others who hope to carry on through the transitory period must act now and keep pace with the alert businessman.

Let's Be Thankful Too!

In 1621 the Pilgrim Fathers set aside a day of thanksgiving for blessings received. Looking back at the bleak days the Pilgrims had endured, we might wonder what they had to be thankful for. They had landed on their "stern and rockbound coast" the previous December, and had lived through a winter that carried nearly half their number to the graveyard. They had raised a crop so meager that they had to ration supplies. They existed on the fringe of an untamed continent inhabited by sav-

Well, why did they give thanks? The only reasonable answer is that they had a prospect of living through another year in the freedom for which they had left Europe.

We still have that freedom. Let's be thankful for it, and guard it well!

Taxes Cost More Than Food

Ask the average man what his chief fa

ily expense is, and he is probably reply food. But he'd be wrong. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out that the average family's tax bill is greater than its combined food and clothing budgets.

So many of our taxes are collected as a hidden part of the cost of all the things we buy that most people don't realize the mag-nitude of the load. In 1939 all taxes averaged less than $400 per family. Today the figure is close to $2,000.

The ederal debt now totals $260,000,000,- 000, which means that the average Federal mortgage on each family is $5,860, in addition to state and local debt mortgages. We will never be able to reduce our debt mortgages and tax liability until government cuts wasteful spending and keeps expenditures within the limits of its income. Amen!

CURRENT COMMENT

Curtis and Hailer Waged Clean Campaign One of the cleanest political fights waged for a high public office anywhere in Massachusetts in the recent campaign was the contest between former Treasurer Laurence Curtis of the Back Bay and City Councillor Frederick C. Hailer, Jr., of Roslindale, for the seat in Congress which Christian A.

Herter is giving up.
Curtis won by a margin of about 18,000 votes after a fine vote-getting run, but both men emerged from their battle with increased stature and prestige, each able to congratulate the other on the type of campaign he had conducted.

Curtis should make an able representative in Congress for the people of the 10th district. His victory by which he won his seat on Capital Hill was an impressive one. His plurality was several times greater than that of Mr. Herter in his first run for Congress a decade ago.

Hailer unquestionably was the strongest Democratic candidate ever to run in the Herter district which was created a little over a decade ago. The evidence of that may be found in his city-wide runs for the Council last year and in the vote he polled in the September primary.
Congressman-elect Curtis goes to Washington with a broad experience with public problems. He has been a member of the Boston City Council, the Massachusetts House of Representatives and the State Senate, and he served a term as State Terasurer.

As a young man just out of Harvard Law School, he served an apprenticeship in Washington to the late, great Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. He worked for several years as has arrived at Fort Dix, New Jersell Holmes. He worked for several years as ingion to the late, great Justice Oliver Wenan Assistant U. S. District Attorney. He was in the foreign diplomatic service.

He has been sought out to head the drives for cancer and polio funds, and the Disabled American Veterans elected him as their State commander a few years ago. Curtis has demonstrated both ability and qualities of leadership that eventually will manifest themseives in the nation's greatest aw-making body.

Herter Faces Problem of What to Do lbout Key Men Appointed By Dever . . . Governor-elect Christian A. Herter is confronted with one rather tricky and troublesome question, about which neither nor his advisers are saying much.

That is whether he should fire Governor Newton, recently reported aboard the heavy cruiser, USS Salem for Dever's appointees from some of the key places in the State government and replace them with men of his own choosing.

This is the same problem which has faced each incoming Governor when the change of administration on Beacon Hill has seen a shift in power from one political

It isn't primarily a matter of patronage or making political plums available to eager

Rather, it's a question whether a Governor can put his own policies and ideas into operation if key branches of the government are being run by de-partment heads who owe their allegiance to the opposite political party.

The terms of a sizeable number of State officials expire during the coming year, some in the first month of Herter's regime. But others run until 1954 and even into 1955, extending beyond Mr. Herter's own two-

Supporters of Governor-elect Herter assert that he is no more certain of being in office any longer than two years than was Bradford, Maurice J. Tobin, Charles F. Hurley or James M. Curley. In fact, the plurality by which he won election was smaller than that of any one

In the last 24 years only three Massachusetts Governors—Paul A. Dever, Leverett Saltonstall and Joseph B. Ely—have succeeded in winning reelection.

The Governorship in these times carries with it many terrific headaches, and there is a tendency toward public impatience and a disposition to expect things done in a hurry.

Herter, as his backers point out, will have to stand for reelection in 1954 on what he accomplishes in the next two years, with no allowances made or claimed for the fact that he was forced to work with some officials unsympathetic to his policies and program. Different Governors have handled this problem in different ways.

Former Governor Curley met it head-on, and he attempted to throw out many of the hold-overs left from the Ely regime when he assumed office in January, 1935. He started ouster proceedings against a number of State office-holders who declined to submit their resigna-tions, and he quickly found himself in the midst of a series of stormy battles that paved the way for his defeat when he ran against Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., for the U. S. Senate in 1936. Curley left himself open to the charge of ruthless action and since then Governors have been wary about making the same mistakes he did.

Governor Dever is understood to have sent word to the Bradford MTA trustees, shortly after his inauguration in 1949, that he wanted their resignations, and they quit in a group.

Walter Waldron, the ice cream magnate who heads the present MTA board, recently served notice that he and his fellow trustees have no intention of complying with any similar hint and that they will not voluntarily surrender their posts.

Waldron expressed the conviction that he and his colleagues have done a good job, although this opinion obviously is not shared by Mr. Herter.

Except possibly in one or two isolated cases, Herter undoubtedly will try to work along with the Dever appointees until their terms run out. He would be unable to devote his time and attention to much of anything else if he undertook any wholesale removals.

The incoming Governor, however, is a man of very firm convictions, and any open attempt to resist his policies undoubtedly would bring swift action against the obstructionist.

Thanksgiving Day

November 27, 1952

I thank Thee, God, for grass and flower, For fertile field and towering tree; thank Thee for the robin's song, For lovely tints that glow along The sunset sky at evensong, And all Thy gifts, Dear God, to me.

I thank Thee, God, for fruitful plain, For vine and orchard laden deep; I thank Thee for the sparkling stream, For twinkling star and moonlight beam O'er earth and sea where riches teem, Thy gifts, Dear God, for me to reap.

I thank Thee, God, a free Flag waves O'er church and home and schoolhouse free I thank Thee for a valiant son Who serves that Fiag from sun to sun; Oh, when at last the war is won,

May he, Dear God, come home to me. We thank Thee, God, for all our sons Who fight our battle, far away: We thank them, for they give their all On shell-torn hill, mid flery pall r boys who hold the forward wall That WE may thank Thee, God, this Day.

Two of the three men arrested by Newton police on charges of being involved in an attempted holdup in Newton Centre November 14 have been released, but the third was ordered held for the Grand Jury following an all-day trial last Thursday.

Judge Donald E. Mayberry, who presided over the morning and afternoon sessions of New ton District Court, found "probable cause" and ordered Saro held in $10,000 double surety.

The other two men who were arrested early this week in connection with the robbery attempt but were released before Saro came to trial, were Vincent J. Fricia, 19, of 4 Langdon place, Boston, and Andrew J. Clericuzio 20 of 19 Meacham street, Somer-

He yelled for help and ran into the sunken garage, Mr. Fishman stated, and the men fled in a yellow convertible.

In the afternoon session, Rob ert Brodner of Reading testified he had chased a yellow converti-ble from the scene and identified Clericuzio's car as the one.
